Where Louisiana's Literary Culture Comes Alive!

Thanks for your interest in the Louisiana Book Festival! Every fall the Louisiana's world-class, signature literary event is held in downtown Baton Rouge, bringing together leading authors, publishing professionals, literary tourists, and book lovers from across the state and nation!

Free and open to the public, the Louisiana Book Festival is one of the anchors of the fall festival calendar in the Bayou State. Approximately 20,000 attendees annually fill the streets around the historic Capitol Park area during the Festival to engage with over 200 authors and poets, participate in informative panel discussions, attend thought-provoking symposiums, peruse hundreds of book titles, and much more!

The Louisiana Book Festival is supported by the generous support of sponsors who share our commitment to reading, literacy, and delivering a fun and memorable experience for our attendees. We offer a number of participation levels that deliver a range of visibility, benefits, and customer engagement possibilities designed to fit your marketing budget.
